4.1. TRAINING PROCESS -A Schematic Depiction

IMG has envisaged the Principal objective of training and development as to make sure the availability of a skilled and willing workforce to an organization. We also have individual, Organizational, Functional and Societal objectives. Individual Objectives is to help employees in achieving their personal goals, which in turn, enhances the individual contribution to an organization. Organizational Objectives are to assist the organization with its primary objective by individual effectiveness.

Functional Objectives helps maintain the department's contribution at a level suitable to the organization's needs and Societal Objectives – ensure that an organization is ethically and socially responsible to the needs and challenges of the society. These stems from the recognition that training is a pre-requisite for enabling them to demonstrate the required degree of efficiency, effectiveness and behavioural propriety expected of them both towards the public and to others in their own work organizations.

Diagram of Training Process

Following the mandate contained in the National Training Policy that each State should formulate a State Training Policy, IMG prepared a preliminary draft in January 2000 and later Government of Kerala approved it after discussions and modifications in 2004.

4. 2 State Training Policy Programmes

A conscious policy for the development of the human resources available to the Government has been sought to be evolved for meeting the challenges of development - social, economic and political. In this context, the Government authorized the Institute of Management in Government to formulate a State Training Policy which, apart from identifying the objectives which training should meet, would help in balancing knowledge and skills with attitudinal changes wherever required.

On the lines with the National Training Policy of Government of India, and in tune with the Administrative Reforms Committee Report, the Government of Kerala has approved the State Training Policy in the year 2004 with the vision "Training for All". This has become our Government's mandate and IMG, which is the Apex Training Institute for the State of Kerala has been designated as the nodal agency to impart training to its departments.

From 2004 onwards, IMG has conducted comprehensive Training Needs analysis for the Government departments and has been addressing the training needs, which emanated in the process.

4.2.i. Training Needs Analysis

In 2004, during the first phase of conduct of Training Needs Analysis those departments with direct citizen interface were selected. These departments were assigned to particular members of faculty of IMG designated as facilitators. They conducted systematic Training Needs Analysis, came up with training and non-training solutions that needs to be addressed for the improvement in service delivery and performance of respective departments. On the basis of training needs, training modules were designed for different categories of employees.

In order to ensure the departments ownership in the conduct of training programme a senior officer of the department was designated as Training manager and the Training Manager works as liaison between department and the Facilitator concerned. He/she ensures the nomination of participants. A group of senior officers function as Core Group members and oversee the conduct of training for the Department.

Till March 2010, IMG has done the Training Needs Analysis of 49 departments, (List attached as Annexure II) designed course modules for different categories of employees, conducted Trainer Development Programmes for employees and are conducting programmes in a decentralized manner. Those who have undergone the Trainer Development Programmes are designated departmental coordinators (DC) to conduct the programme in IMG or in some other venue. The senior level programmes and induction programmes are directly conducted by the Facilitator in Head Quarters or one of the Regional centers of IMG.

The details of conduct of State Training Policy programmes during 2009-2010 are shown in the table 2. In the current year, one new department -the department of Prosecutions was inducted to State Training Policy.

Among the various programmes conducted under STP, some programmes were very innovative in terms of its content, conduct and methodology.

4 2. ii Evaluation and upkeep of quality of training

At the end of each training programme a summative evaluation of the course is done by the participants using a structured evaluation Pro forma prepared and provided by IMG. This is consolidated and major suggestions pertaining to conduct of programme, course design, and quality of training per say etc was incorporated in the conduct of next years programme.

For ensuring regular update of Training Needs Analysis Document, course module, design etc., the respective facilitator conducts a workshop with all the Departmental Coordinators who have conducted at least one training programme and the core group members and make necessary changes in this regard on the basis of evaluation given by participants at the end of each training programme.

This year, IMG prepared a baseline data from the consolidated evaluation Proforma of STP programs. A guest panel was prepared for the faculty and was made available in the website. It was further decided that facilitators and departmental co-ordinators would stick on to the panel so as to ensure quality and standardization of training sessions.

IMG has entrusted Centre for Management Development (CMD), an autonomous body under the Government of Kerala to conduct a detailed evaluation of the training programme conducted by IMG since the inception of State training policy.

4. 3. Government of India Sponsored programmes (GOI)

These programmes comes to each Apex Training Institute as Support to State Training Activities category Programmes and are designed to develop knowledge of different areas, management skills, sensitize officers of senior and middle level of State Governments, State Public Sector Undertakings and State Autonomous Bodies to improve their service delivery and enhance attitudinal excellence.

These Programmes cover a large variety of subjects under the broad thematic groups viz. Computer Awareness and Information Technology, Gender Empowerment, gender Budgeting, energy security, Total Quality Management, Participatory Administration, Decentralized Planning and Governance, Change Management, Disaster Management, State Financial Management, Gender Issues, Citizen's Charter, Human Rights, Ethics and Human Values, etc.

Each year, on the basis of the expertise of the faculty member concerned, IMG gives proposal on the above areas to Department of personnel and Training (DoPT) and get a funding for these programmes. Usually there are 5 day programmes and 3 day programmes. For 5 day programme we receive Rs. 63,000 per programme and for three day programme it is Rs 54,000/-. In the year 2009 - 10, we received approval for 72 programmes under this category and conducted 65 programmes.

The programmes were highly appreciated by the participants as evident from their oral evaluation as well as

4 4. National Level Trainer Development programmes

The Training Division of the Department of Personnel & Training, Government of India, (DoPT) aims to develop a pool of quality trainers who can promote training in partnership with departments, ministries and organizations committed to best practice in human resource development. The thrust is to train trainers in training technology to help them deliver their subject-specific training in a systematic manner. With this view, every year through the state Apex Training Institutes Department of Personnel and Training conduct its trainer development programmes deploying the Master trainers and recognized trainers developed and enlisted in their national resource portal. Five of IMG's faculty members are empanelled by DoPT as Recognized Trainer.

The various Trainer Development Programmes are

- Direct Trainer Skills (DTS)
- Design of Training (DoT)
- Management of Training (MoT)
- Evaluation of Training (EoT)
- Direct Trainer Skills - II (DTS-II) or Experiential Learning Techniques
- Training Needs Analysis & Use of TNA Toolkit (TNA)
- Mentoring Skills & Facilitation Skills (M&F)
- Recognized Trainer/ Master Trainer (RT/MT) development workshops in all the above areas.

Out of these, in the year under discussion, IMG requested for and was sanctioned one Recognized Trainer Development Workshop on Direct Trainer Skills course. Three recognized trainers were developed in this programme out of which two were IMG faculty members. There were two courses on Training Needs Analysis & Use of Training Needs Analysis toolkit. IMG has 4 Recognized Trainers in Training Needs Analysis and one on Experimental Learning Techniques. The recognized trainers conduct National Level Trainings and develop a training pool within the State. The recognized trainers are deployed by Department of Personnel and Training Government of India to other States to conduct courses.

In Training Needs Analysis, where there is project work for the final certification, reasonable numbers of candidates have submitted their reports. After evaluation they will be certified as Training Needs Analysis consultants (certified Training Needs Analysts) who will be able to conduct Training Needs Analysis of institutions/departments. The courses were highly appreciated by the participants. From IMG, recognized trainers were deployed, for conducting the National Level Training Needs Analysis Course.

In the year under report, IMG was allotted 8 TDPs as per the proposals submitted to DoPT by IMG. They were co-ordinated by faculty members. The participants were faculty members and selected trainers from departments.

4.5. Other Sponsored Programme (OSP)

IMG conducts certain programmes apart from State Training Policy training for Government Departments, Public Sector Undertakings and other agencies as per their immediate necessities and requests. These programmes are funded by the department / institution. IMG designs specific courses based on the demand and conducts the programmes accordingly. In the year referred to we received requests for Other Sponsored Programmes from Social Welfare Department, Food and Civil Supplies Department Sree Sankaracharya Sanskrit University and Kerala State Housing Board. These programmes were suggested by departments on the basis of IMG's expertise and their immediately felt needs.

The major Other Sponsored Programmes were

4.5.i. Flagship programme on prevention of Domestic violence sponsored by Department of Social Welfare

This programme was a continuation of the previous year's programme.

IMG was entrusted with the onerous task of conducting a series of programmes on the Act by Social Welfare Department. Those programmes were conducted for different categories of players in the Act- Magistrates, Police personnel, Protection Officers, Doctors, NGOs, political leaders, Shelter Home Managers etc. The experience, the enhanced confidence and the contacts developed from these engagements resulted in us conceptualizing and conducting two programmes on the subject with all the stakeholders together for each course getting funds from Government of India. The programme opened way for free communication of the different actors and much to our gratification the stakeholders in at least Ernakulam and Trichur Districts began informal networking to make Kerala homes violence free. Many trainees continue to have associations with IMG for clarification of related issues. Thus we are able to fulfill the legislative intent of protecting women from Domestic Violence and the statutory requirement of governments to train personnel on the Act.

4.5. ii. Training Programme on Targeted Public Distribution System (TPDS) Sponsored by Civil Supplies Department.

The Civil Supplies Department discharges the important responsibilities of Public Distribution, enforcement of markets discipline and promotion of consumer awareness and protection of their interest. A series of training were given to the staff of Civil supplies Department to inculcate in them better public relations skills and for ensuring proper enforcement of various acts and rules. Citizen charter and its role in service delivery was also emphasized. The training programmes were rolled out in the 3 Centres of IMG. The department was funded by the central government.

4.5. iii Double Entry Accounting System for Executive Officers (DEAS) for the Kerala State Housing Board

This year the cell charted and conducted 77 training programmes.

4.7. i. Activities under the RTI Cell

Apart from the training of trainers programme and general awareness training, this year the RTI cell diversified its activities.

a. Distance learning using Video Conferencing

- For meeting the challenge in finding good trainers in remote locations, IMG has launched the distance training programme using the existing Video Conferencing facility of the Govt. of Kerala. Video Conferencing centres available at all district headquarters are used for this purpose and about 10 to 12 trainees participate from each centre for a particular course on RTI. The expert faculty is available at Trivandrum from where he makes the presentation. The trainees also got a chance to interact with the State Information Commissioner in the last session. The first batch was launched in October 2009 and has been conducting two batches every month. It extends to all the 11 districts where IMG does not have any centre. This has enabled fast roll out of training and also better outreach.

b. RTI Portal

- A Knowledge Portal is also being developed as part for the RTI training system. This is expected to go online by soon It aims at educating the public and Government employees to understand and apply the Act and get the services from Public Authorities. The portal will serve as a single referral point with latest circulars, case laws etc

c. e-Learning module on RTI

- The work relating to the bilingual e-Learning module on RTI is in progress and is expected to be formally launched by the end of March 2010. This facility involves creation of online pedagogically sound e-courseware. The online module also provides for evaluation of the trainee about the content by administering interim quizzes and tests before the trainee can proceed to subsequent sections. The system also provides for online certification.

d. Ask the Expert

- This facility enables remote user to ask a specific question on the online portal. The question is then routed to a panel of experts who within a specified timeframe provide the best possible answer to the query. Moreover, the reply is recorded in a Knowledge Management system for subsequent users to refer.

8. EMERGING AREAS OF EXPERTISE:

The year 2009 – 10 marked an year of evolutionary leap in the history of training for IMG as it marked IMG's entry into new and innovative areas of training. Keeping in tune with the governmental effort to maximize quality service delivery with minimum citizen interfere, IMG entered into the arena of e-Governance, Cyber Security and Secretariat Training.

8. a. Cyber Security

The role played by computer and internet in the dissemination of information and knowledge is remarkable. But with the increase in the use of computers, internet and mobile technology in our daily life, there is also a corresponding increase in cyber crimes. Cyber Crimes are being committed by cleverest of the clever, the users of computers, cell phones and other electronic devices. If taken necessary precautions we can get rid of them. In spite of very high punishments prescribed by law, such crimes are on the rise. So IMG felt that it is necessity to create awareness on cyber security so that people including government officials may not fall in the traps set by such criminals. On an analysis it was inferred that Judges, Prosecutors Police officers and Law officers should be trained properly so as to enable them to handle the cases involving cyber crimes efficiently and effectively. Since the students of schools and colleges happen to be the culprits and victims of cyber crimes it was necessary to enlighten them also in this regard. Training should be given to teachers of schools and colleges so that they in turn shall convey the message to their students. Hence it was decided to chart three types of programmes. A one day awareness programme for employees of various departments, a three day programme for Nodal officers of e Governance and 5 day programme for TSPs and system administrators.

8. a. i. Seminar on Cyber Crimes: Law and Practice

One day Seminar on Cyber Crimes: Law and Practice was held on 24.9.2009 for the employees of Government Departments. Dr. A. Prasanna, Associate Fellow IMG, Dr. Alexander Jacob I PS, Sri E. K. Mollykutty Louis, Associate Fellow was the nodal officer.

Later, this centre was converted to Secretariat Training Centre (STC).

Innovative programme under STC Minutes Writing Workshop

Minutes-writing is an important part of the overall job profile for most officers in the Secretariat and even those who work in the headquarters of the Heads of Departments. The ineffectiveness in minutes writing results is not only wasting time spent on meetings, but also failure to take follows up action by functionaries who are expected to take action based on the decisions of the meeting. Considering the importance of developing Minutes Writing skills for the officers in Secretariat, IMG has developed a package for conducting an one day workshop on Minutes Writing. The package is developed on the principles of experiential learning. Six trainers were also developed for conducting the workshops through a Trainer Development Programme on minutes writing. The first workshop was inaugurated by Smt.Neela Gangadharan, Chief Secretary, Govt. of Kerala on 19.11.2009. It is expected to cover all the officers from Addl.
